ROBERT B. REICH

is Chancellor’s Professor of Public Policy at the University of California, Berkeley and Senior Fellow at the school’s Blum Center for Developing Economies. He has served in three national administrations, most recently as secretary of labor under President Bill Clinton, for which Time magazine named him one of the Top 10 Best Cabinet Members of the 20th century. He also served on President Barack Obama’s transition advisory board.

He has written 14 books, including The Work of Nations, which has been translated into 22 languages, and the best-sellers Aftershock, Beyond Carrots, and his most recent, Saving Capitalism: For the Many, Not the Few.

Professor Reich is also co-founding editor of The American Prospect magazine, chairman of Common Cause, and co-creator of the award-winning documentary Inequality for All. His weekly syndicated column appears in more than 60 newspapers, including the San Francisco Chronicle. He is also a senior economic analyst for CNN. His videos and blogs are widely shared on social media, and his Facebook page has more than 2 million followers.

In 2003, Professor Reich was awarded the prestigious Vaclav Havel Vision Foundation Prize by the former Czech president for whom the award is named, for his pioneering work in economic and social thought. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

We are pleased to welcome Robert B. Reich as the 20th Maurice Galante Lecturer.
